THE MAN WHO CARRIED HIS OWN BUNDLE.

In the dullest part of the dullest country in England is situated the little demi-semi-fashionable bathing town of—Bless me!—I was almost betrayed by a mere force of habit into the imprudence of calling it by its name———,

Once upon a time there happened to the said little town, a very dull bathing season—every town on the coast beside was full of company, bathers, walkers, donkey-riders, saunterers and pebble gatherers, yet the luckless town of———was comparatively empty. Huge placards with "Lodgings to let" stared every body in the face, from every window in every direction. Things of course were very flat, all ranks of people were malcontent. The shopkeepers were croaking; the proprietors of lodging houses in despair! and the few visitors who had ventured thither in hopes of making pleasant acquaintances and dissipating their dullness were sick of ennui. As for that class of incurables, the resident inhabitants, they, for the want of some better amusement, applied themselves with redoubled ardor to their favorite winter recreations of cards, and the most inveterate scandal of each other.

In this state of utter stagnation were things at———when, one very hot day in the middle of August, a stranger was seen to enter that worthy town corporate. In the dearth of anything in the shape of news of variety which was felt so sensibly at———, an arrival of the stranger would have been considered a seasonable mercy, could he have been approached without the direful risk of contaminating gentility by bringing it into contact with something beneath it. But this stranger entered the town in so questionable a shape, that the very fourth and fifth rate castes in———stood aloof, holding themselves a peg above him. Even the shop-keepers, mantua-makers, and waiters at the taverns felt their noses curl up intuitively at the sight of him. The groups of loiterers collected at the doors of the inns, passed contemptous comments on him as he pursued his way, and the few fashionables that were to be seen in the streets cast supercilious glances of careless superiority upon him, for he was on foot and alone, attired in a coat, waist-coat, and in short, a whole suit of that sort of mixed cloth called pepper-and-salt color, with a black silk handkerchief tied about his neck in a nautical style; he wore huge seaboots pulled over his knees, and to complete the picture, carried a large bundle in a red silk handkerchief, at the end of a stout oaken cudgel, over his shoulder.

Such was his dress; yet to close observers of character, there was something wholly out of the common way about the lonely pedestrian. There was that expression of cool determined courag[illegible]ight [illegible] large grey eyes, that whatever [illegible] we in his the prevailing sentiments of the [illegible]night be nity towards him, few would [illegible] commu- bold enough to offer him act[illegible] have been even if he had not grasped so [illegible]ual insult, a weapon of offence and defen[illegible] substantial above mentioned stout oaken cu[illegible]ce as the hand that betokened such weig[illegible]dgel, in a [illegible]ht of bone and power of muscle.

There certainly was a c[illegible]haracteristic something in the stranger, fr[illegible]om the tie of his handkerchief to the slig[illegible]t roll in his gait, that savoured of a sea[illegible]faring life.—Even his way of setting [illegible] his hat had not the look of a landsm[illegible]an. The air of sturdy independence wi[illegible]h which he shouldered his bundle, and [illegible]rudged along, showed that he considere[illegible] the opinion of the bystanders as a matter of perfect indifference. Yet there was that about him whi[illegible] forcibly arrested the attention of ev[illegible] one; people who would not own to th[illegible] selves that they thought him worth [illegible] ing at once, neverthe[illegible]ss turned [illegible] look at him again.

The first step he t[illegible] [illegible] was to found[illegible] for lodgings; but these [illegible]ugh re[illegible] was in were not so easily obtained [illegible]prietors of vain that he app[illegible] to the[illegible] as though every lodging [illegible]se; it s[illegible] in his face; he carried [illegible] of excl[illegible] his approach, people [illegible] door [illegible]arine villa to the and [illegible] genteel [illegible] could not find a roof [illegible] cabin, h[illegible] and his bundle.—[illegible] shelter [illegible] [illegible]n-keepers were equally inexorable, [illegible] it appeared doubtful whether he would be permitted to rest even the sole of his foot in the hospitable town of———.

Our pedestrian might have despaired even of obtaining a night's lodging in a place where the tide of popular opinion seemed to set so dead against him but he was no sentimental novice; he had passed the meridian of life, and was too well acquainted with mankind not to know, that [illegible] he could call to his aid a few of these potent little magicians, (called sovereigns they are) he could insure himself anything he pleased in the little corporation. In fact, the prudential doubts of its inhabitants, as to the probability of his carrying any metal of that shape and color in the queerly cut pockets of his thread bare pepper-and-salts, was the whole and sole reason of his cool rejection.

The witness of a sovereign, to which the stranger as a dernier resort appealed, procured him a supper and bed, and all things needful for rest and refreshment, at a small public house, whose crazy little creaking sign promised to travellers "Good entertainment for man and beast."

The next morning, being disencumbered of the unpopular bundle at the end of that oaken cudgel which he still either grasped or flourished in a most nautical fashion, he entered the reading room.

"It is no use putting down your name, sir, for you cannot be admitted here," was the answer he received from the pert superintendent of this place of fashionable resort.

"Not on my paying the usual terms of subscription?" demanded the stranger.

"No sir, we cannot admit persons of your description on any terms, sir."

"Persons of my description?" repeated the stranger, most emphatically grasping his trusty cudgel, "and pray, sir, of what description do you suppose me to be?"

The Jack in office surveyed the sturdy stranger with a look in which contempt and alarm were oddly blended, as he replied:

"Can't exactly say, sir, but I am sure none of our subscribers would choose to associate with you."

"How do you know that, you saucy Jackanapes?" said the stranger, becoming a little choleric.

"Why, sir, because, sir, we make a point of being very select, sir, and never on no account admit persons of your description."

"But it seems you do not know of what description I am."

"Why, sir, no one can expect to keep these sort of things a secret."

"What, then, is it whispered about who I am? And what does that important personage, everybody, say."

"Oh, sir, that you are a broken-down miller hiding from his creditors." And here he cast a shrewd glance on the thread-bare pepper-and-salts of the stranger.—The stranger regarded him for a moment with a comic expression on his features, made him a profound bow, and walked off.

Not a whit humbled by this repulse, the stranger repaired to the place of general promenade, and took possession of a vacant place at the end of one of the benches, on which were seated two or three of those important people who had from time immemorial invested themselves with the dignity of the head persons in the place. It is hardly possible to suppose such people would condescend to exchange a few remarks with a stranger of whom the only particulars known were, that he trudged into town carrying his own bundle, wore a thread-bare suit of pepper-and-salts, and slept at the Golden Lion.

These worthies did not allow him time to make their acquaintance, but with an air as if they dreaded infection, they rose and departed. Not the least discomposed by the distaste the great [illegible] stran[illegible] [illegible]ne, as the Invigorator, [illegible]h at ———evinced for his soc[illegible] his ger proceeded to make hi[illegible]cket a home on the bench as [illegible] match, inheritance. He drew [illegible]ome time box with an apparatu[illegible] lighted a cigar, and [illegible] set of loung- with great apparen[illegible]stily dispatch-

At length perc[illegible]hing one of the ers on the pron[illegible]d a few courteous ed his cigar, [illegible]ations to its occu- other bench[illegible]d a gentleman; but though tri[illegible]en either of a blasphe- pants, thr[illegible] nature, they could not had his [illegible]ed with a greater appear- mous [illegible]rnation by the ladies, who have [illegible] at the liberty the pepper-and- an[illegible] man had taken, while the gentle- re[illegible]erved with a most aristocratic de- s[illegible]r, that he laboured under a mis- in addressing those ladies.

"Sir," said the stranger, "you are right; I took you for persons of politeness and benevolence. Discovering my error, I crave your pardon, and retire."

Although any reasonable person might have been satisfied from these specimens of the inhabitants of———that it was no sport for a friendly, unknown individual to pitch his tent in, still, "the man who carried his own bundle" persevered in his endeavors to find some liberal-minded person therein. Yet from high to low, a general feeling of suspicion seemed to pervade the bosoms of all, and the luckless stranger resided in the town a whole week without finding a single exception. Nay, worse reports still than being a bankrupt miller got afloat.

Mine hostess of the Golden Lion served up these on dits with all their variations and accompaniments daily to her guest at his meals, protesting, in the true tone of all dealers in such matters, her total disbelief in every thing that was said to the prejudice of her guest,—a guest, who showed so much good taste as to prefer her house, and sufficient honesty to pay for everything before he consumed it—which, to be sure, she prudently added, was the way in which business was always carried on at the Golden Lion.

"I wonder, then, Mrs. Pagan, that you should do so unhandsome a thing by Jack Smith, Tom Balls, and some dozen other of your customers, as to chalk up such enormous scores against them as these," said the stranger, dryly pointing with his oak stick to the hieroglyphics, with which the bar was graced.

"Why, sir, to be sure, these are all 'sponsible persons," stammered Betty Pagan. Her guest muttered to himself as he passed into the street.

Rather hard that my credit should be worse than that of Jack Smith, and Tom Balls, and the rest of Betty Pagan's customers. Faith I must be a most suspicious looking fellow! To be sure, reports like these are of a nature to give the death-blow to my vanity, if that were a failing that could be cured by mortification. I am an ugly dog, I am aware, but I did not know that my phiz was ill looking enough to indicate an old smuggler, a broken down miller (but for that the pepper-and-salt may be thanked,) a fraudulent bankrupt hiding up from his creditors, a returned convict, and a man having married three wives, has run away from them all!"

The habitual good temper, and light hearted gaiety of the stranger was ruffled; and there was a compression on his brow, and an angry glow on his cheek as he entered that notorious gossip shop, the Post Office. The mail had just arrived, and the letters having been sorted, were delivered to their respective claimants. But there was one letter that had not been claimed, which excited general curiossity.

According to invariable diurnal custom, all the towns-people who had nothing to do, were assembled in or near the Post Office—those who expected letters, to receive them, and those who did not, to take note of the epistles directed to their neighbors, and obtain, if possible, some clue whereby to guess their contents—either from observation of hands, or seals, or haply from the expression of the countenances of the recipients, or some hint or exclamation during persual.

The unclaimed letter was of a most tempting appearance, sealed, surmounted with a coronet—to the Right Hon. Admiral Lord A———B———and franked by the Duke of A———. Many were the surmises offered on the subject. Could it be possible that a man of his high rank meant to honor them with his presence for the season. But then he had not engaged lodgings. No matter, there were plenty disengaged. The most noble duke evidently supposed that his uncle was actually there and it was impossible for so great a man to make a mistake. Lord A——— B——— would doubtless arrive that day with his suite. It would be the salvation of the town for the season to be able to announce such an arrival in the country papers—the presence of my Lord, was perhaps a prognostic of a visit from the duke and mighty duchess.

All present were impressed with the necessity of calling an immediate town meeting, to propose presenting him with the freedom of the town, in a gilt box, which doubtless [illegible] During [illegible] polite [illegible]cussion, in which, by this time, the whole [illegible] dis- town were engaged, there were some whose [illegible] curiosity to know the contents of this important epistle was so great as to betray them into the endeavor of forstalling Lord A———B———in reading all that was come-at-able in his letter; but the envelope was folded so as to baffle the most expert in the worthy art of round-readings.

How far the ardor of making discoveries would have carried some of them I am not prepared to say—perhaps it might have led to felonious attempts on the sanctity of the ducal seal and frank, had not the stranger (who had remained an unnoticed listener in the crowd, and had quietly seen the letter passing from hand to hand through a large circle) now stepped into the midst, and making a low bow, said—

"Gentlemen, when you have amused yourselves sufficiently with that letter, I will thank you to hand it over to me, its rightful owner."

"To you!" exclaimed the whole town and corporation in a breath, looking unutterable things at the thread-bare pepper-and-salt, of the independent individual before them. "We are surprised at your impudence in demanding this letter, which is sealed by the Duke of A———and addressed to Admiral Lord A———B———."

"I am he, gentlemen," returned the stranger making a sarcastic obeisance all round. "I see you do not think that the son of a duke can wear such a coat, and carry his own bundle on occasion. However, I see one within hail who can witness to my identity. Here, you Jack Braceyard, have you forgotten you rold commander?"

"Forgotton your honor! No, no, my Lord," exclaimed Jack springing into the midst of the circle. "I knew your noble Lordship the moment I seen you; but I remembered your honor's humors too well to spoil sport by saluting, when you thought fit to hoist colors."

"Jack you're an honest fellow! and here is a sovereign to drink my health, for we have weathered many a hard gale together, and here's another for keeping my secret, old heart of oak. And now gentlemen," continued Lord A———B———, "if you are not satisfied that the letter belongs to me, here are, I trust, sufficient proofs!" as he spoke he produced from his pocket book a bundle of letters, bearing the same superscription.

The post-master immediately handed him the letter, and began a string of the most elaborate apologies, which his Lordship did not stay to listen to, but walked back to the Golden Lion, leaving the assembled population of———mute with consternation.

That afternoon, the whole corporation, sensible too late of error, waited in a body on Lord———B———to apologize for their mistake, and to entreat him to honor the town with his presence during the remainder of the season.

Lord A———B———was busily employed tying up his bundle when the deputation entered, and he continued to adjust it all the time they were speaking. When they concluded having tightened the last knot, he replied as follows:

"Gentlemen, I entered your town with every intention of thinking well of its inhabitants. But you will say that I came in a shabby coat, carrying my own bundle—and took up quarters at a paltry alehouse. Upon my word it was the only place where you would give me admittance! Your reception of me would have been different had I arrived in my carriage. Gentlemen, I doubt it not, my rank, fortune, and equipage will procure me respect any where from people of your way of thinking. But, gentlemen, I am an old fellow as you see, and sometimes try whether I can obtain it without these adventitious distinctions; and the manner in which you treated me, while I appeared among you in the light of a poor and most inoffensive stranger, has convinced me of my error in looking for liberality of construction here. And now, gentlemen, I must inform you that I estimate your polite attention at the same value that I did your contempt, and that I would not spend another night in your town if you would give it to me for nothing, and so I wish you a very good morning."

As his lordship concluded, he attached his red bundle to the end of his bludgeon, and shouldering it, with a droll look at the dumbfounded corporation, he trudged out of town with the same air of sturdy independence with which he had trudged in.

The sagacious town and corporation remained thunderstruck with the adventure, However, their conduct in the affair had been too unanimous to admit of their recriminating on each other the blame of this unlucky mistake; so they came to the wise resolution of making the best of a bad business, and digesting the bitter rebuke as well as they might; moreover, they determined that their town should not lose the credit of a visit from so distinguished a personage, and duly annonaced in the county papers, Lord A———B———'s arrival and departure from the town of ———.

LOUIS NAPOLEON A BOGUS.—A writer in Graham's Magazine for January has come forward with some important revelations, convicting the occupant of the French Imperial throne of the basest imposture.

He says that [illegible] [illegible]amilton's "His- [illegible] In 1857. The story is well told, and the objections that would naturally be suggested, are skilfully disposed of. Whether it will excite so much attention as the pretended discovery of the son of Louis XVI., in the person of a Mr. Williams, a few years ago, remains to be seen.

BEAUTIFUL METAPHOR.—Henry Ward Beecher, in one of his "star" papers in the New York Independent, says:

We have known men, upon whose grounds waved magnificent trees of centuries growth, lifted up into the air with vast breadth, and full of twilight and mid-day,—who cut down all these mighty monarchs, and cleared the ground bare; and then when the desolation was complete, and the fierce summer sun gazed full into their face with its fire, they bethought themselves of shade, and forthwith set out a generation of thin, shadowless sticks, pining and waiting until they should stretch out their boughs with protection, and darken the ground with grateful shadow. Such folly is theirs who refuse the tree of life, the shadow of the Almighty, and sit, instead, under the fee[illegible] their own planting, wh[illegible] be broad enough to sh[illegible] boughs will never voice [illegible] sic of the air.

Bishop Marley had a good deal of the humor of Swift. Once, when the coachman was ordered to fetch some water from the well, he objected, stating that his business was to drive, not to run on errands.

"Well, then," said Marley, "bring out the coach-and-four, set the pich[illegible] and drive to the well!"

John Anderson, my Jo.

This exquisite ballad, constructed by Robert Burns out of a different and somewhat exceptionable lyric, has always left something to be wished for and regretted: it is not complete. But who would venture to add to a song of Burns? As Burns left it, it runs thus:—

John Anderson, my jo, John,
When we were first acquent,
Your locks were like the raven,
Your bonnie brow was brent;
But now your head's turned bald, John,
Your locks are like the snow;
But blessings on your frosty pow,
John Anderson, my jo.

John Anderson, my jo, John,
We clam the hill thegither;
And mony a canty day, John,
We've had wi'ane anither;
Now we maun totter down, John,
But hand in hand we'll go,
And sleep thegither at the foot,
John Anderson, my jo.

Fine as this is, it does not quite satisfy a contemplative mind: when one has gone so far, he looks and longs for something more—some thing beyond the foot of the hill. Many a reader of Burns must have felt this; and it is quite probable that many have attempted to supply the deficiency; but we know of only one success in so hazardous an experiment. This is the added verse:—

John Anderson, my jo, John,
When we have slept thegither
The sleep that a' maun sleep, John,
We'll wake wi'ane anither;
And in that better warld, John,
Nae sorrow shall we know:
Nor fear we e'er shall part again,
John Anderson, my jo.

Simple, touching, true—nothing wanting, and nothing to spare; precisely harmonizing with the original stanzas, and improving them by the fact of completing them. This poetical achievement is attributed to Mr. Charles Gould, a gentleman of our town, whose life has been chiefly devoted to the successful combination of figures—but not figures of rhetoric. The verse was written some years ago, but it has not hitherto found its way into print; yet it well deserves to be incorporated with the original song in any future edition of Burn's Poems, and we hope some publisher will act on this suggestion.—Home Journal.

AT HER POST.—An old lady was very much addicted to going to sleep in church—a habit which she avowed she could not help. One evening, a prayer meeting was to take place in the church of which she was a worthy member, and she informed her family that she was going to it. One of her daughters said to her, "It is no use for you to go to church—you will be sure to go to sleep." "I don't care if I do," she replied, "I shall be at my post."

1 copy one year $1,50; in clubs of 10, to one address, $1,25 per copy; in clubs of 20 or more, to one address, $1,00 per copy. Payment in all cases must be IN ADVANCE.

Renewals should be prompt, a little while before the year expires, in order that we may make all necessary arrangements to supply the paper regularly.

The RED WRAPPER or the name written on the paper with RED INK or KILL, indicates that the time paid for is about to expire and that we desire a renewal. If however, in the haste of mailing, this signal should be omitted, we hope our friends will still not forget us.

REMITTANCES.—Send payment by safe hands, when convenient. Or send by mail, enclosing with ordinary care, and troubling nobody with a knowledge of what you are doing. For a large amount, send a draft or large notes.—For one or two papers, send gold or small notes.

To make change, send postage stamps, or better still, send for more papers; say $2,00 for 70 numbers, or $1,00 for 33 numbers.

☞ The communication of our Philadelphia correspondent was received too late to appear in this week's paper.

PROSPECTUS.—We this week enclose prospectus of our paper to a number of our friends in the county, any of whom can easily raise us a club in their vicinity. We hope they will do what they can for us and we'll return the favor, some way or other.

☞ We this week send a number of papers to old subscribers at a distance whose time has expired, but who have not yet signified their intention of renewing, with a red wrapper on them, or addressed with red ink, to intimate that their time is up and we desire a renewal. Those who desire to renew must forward us the amount of subscription, before our next issue, as we now go on the cash principle. We hope all will renew promptly.

The "Sentinel's" Courtesy.

The learned senior editor of the Juniata Sentinel, last week displayed his courtesy in a characteristic manner. He published our note, which he had refused to do before, and prefaced it with some of his learned remarks, done up in his usual gentlemanly style. He attempts to justify his want of courtesy, by saying that "no person attached any importance to the sheet, (the Scorpion) but treated it with almost silent contempt," and that "it would have been forgotten ere this had not the Junior Editor of that paper (Tribune) made it the burden of his song while here, and persuaded himself into the belief that he was most 'foully slandered' by some person or persons intimating that it might have been circulated in that [illegible]

Mexico.

This unhappy Republic is again cursed with civil war. President Comonfort, imitating Emperor Napoleon, threw off the mask he has so long worn and usurped the imperial sceptre. At first success seemed to favor his attempt, but latterly to be removed beyond his grasp. At last advi... ...ly every town and State [illegible] ed by Comonfort's troops, but they were repulsed. All foreigners hoisted the flags of their respective countries. Confusion reigns at the capital, while travelling from place to place is attended with certain robbery, if not danger of life. And as if to fill the cup of misery of this unhappy country, the grey-eyed man of destiny—fillibuster Walker, is said to be making extensive preparations to invade it with another fillibustering expedition. If he does, we sincerely hope that he will meet the just fate which he has so long courted.

Gen. Walker.

The grey-eyed man of destiny, who perpetrates his outrages on inoffensive neighboring States with impunity, and boastingly defies the power of our government, met with an enthusiastic reception in Mobile on Saturday, the 23th ult. He was received with a national salute, and the hospitalities of the city formally extended to him. On the next day—Sunday—he was arrested on an order from New Orleans. A writ of habeas corpus was sued out, and he was discharged from custody, Judge Gale quashing the proceedings. Of course! Who would dream of anything else, when he is regarded with such favor by the "powers that be." No wonder that a Judge should desecrate Sunday by such an act.

On the next evening, Monday, an enthusiastic meeting was held at which speeches were delivered by Gen. Walker, Parson Brownlow and several others.—Gen. Walker disclosed the secret of the government opposition, and a proposition to go to Mexico to unite in the war, with the view of acquiring territory. Ah! then this is the milk in the cocoa nut, which accounts for the leniency with which our government treats his high-handed outrages. It is almost needless to say, that resolutions demanding Commodore Paulding's trial and denouncing the government were passed, as fillibusters scruple at nothing.

Popularity of Humbugs.

It is an old saying that "Humbugs are always popular." That it is a true one, we think no one need question. It is a notorious fact, that quacks in every profession are always better patronised than those who have spent the best part of their days, in booking themselves up in everything relating to that profession. It seems to be a settled fact, that the public love to be humbugged. As evidence of this, we publish below an article from the Ohio State Pennant, published in January, 1857, in which the rottenness of the Ohio Life Insurance and Trust Company is exposed.—The figures were taken from Lord's Detector. After reading this article, and reflecting on the fact, that the depositors in that humbug bank refused to listen to this warning, and took no measures to secure themselves, but rather had their confidence in it increased, until it smashed, involving hundreds and thousands of its victims in irretrievable ruin, and precipitating the late financial crisis which shook the world, [illegible] humbugs are not popular, [illegible] ...humbugged.

[illegible] ...are, [illegible] ...296. Immediate liabilities, $2,414,741—leaving a deficit of $1,919,445. This is a vast amount to depend upon the mere will of its creditors, who may at any time demand this whole sum of over two millions of dollars.

The Trust Company has $23,000 invested in real estate, and other unknown resources $363,989

All may thus at once see where this Company would stand in case of a run upon it. Only about $470,000 cash, against $2,000,000 indebtedness, all of which is liable to be demanded any day! Its lands cannot, of course, be converted into cash in a day or a month, nor is it likely that its other resources can be rendered immediately available.

We make these statements of figures upon the authority of Mr. Lord, the editor of "Lord's Detector and Bank Note Reporter." Mr. Lord is doubtless posted in these matters, and, entertaining no better opinion of his neighbor of the Trust Company Bank than others ought, perhaps he feels it to be his duty to blow upon them.—His Reporter is very reliable, and its quotation of the various bank-notes is taken as correct.—He has here given the community a warning against the Trust Company's weakness, and if people will persist in making that institution their depository, they will do it at their peril. We had supposed that after last year's sad experience in banks of deposit, during which hundreds and thousands of dollars were lost to the people, that moneyed men would avoid those concerns. But not so. We find many who have been bled freely heretofore again submitting themselves to the ... sort of leeches, and will again suffer in the ... unless they withdraw in season.

TOO LATE.—A young couple eloped from a neighboring town lately, and when at a safe distance from home were married. Soon after an officer was sent in pursuit, and arriving at the hotel where they were stopping, he immediately entered their room, and found them snug in bed. He explained his errand, when the young lady said, with a ringing laugh: "Tell ma it is too late—we've been married some time, and have been in bed half-an-hour Te! he! he-e-e! Don't you get out of bed for him, John!"

NICARAGUA APPROVES OF THE ACT.—The Nicaraguan Minister, in a letter to Mr. Cass, published in the Union, returns thanks to the U. S. Government for arresting Walker on Nicaraguan soil. Nicaragua does not feel that her sovereignty has been violated in the least, and Mr. Yrisari says Com. Paulding's act was perfectly justifiable, for, he adds, "as a man-of-war of any nation may take up pirates from a desert island, or one so thinly peopled that they can assert their dominion over it, altho' that island might belong to another sovereign nation, just so can bandits be apprehended, as enemies of the human race, by the armed vessels of a friendly nation, on a point of a foreign coast, which may be placed under circumstances like to those of the island mentioned by way of illustration." This is a stunning fact to the sympathizers with the fillibusters, who felt so indignant that the sovereignty of Nicaragua should be outraged by the United States.

LIFE PRESERVING JACKET.—This is an article which has just been manufactured in Philadelphia. It is said to fit a man like a sailor's monkey jacket, and therefore not liable to be washed from the body. The jacket is lined with cork shavings, enclosed in water tight cloth, quilted in cylinders around the jacket three or four inches apart. The jacket, therefore, is a series of water-tight compartments, and injury to any one will not affect the buoyant character of the others. The arms and hands are left free in their motion to sieze a rope, grasp a plank, or use in any other way which is necessary to save life.

THE POOR IN NEW YORK.—The disbursements in money to the out-door poor in New York, per week, amount to $2,000, and in coal to over two thousand tons a week. About twelve thousand persons are now receiving coal and three thousand are aided with money.

RICHES OF DELHI.—A soldier writes from Delhi that probably every member of the Guards will be worth £1,000, when he reaches England. An equal division of the spoils is to be made, and they exceed in richness anything heretofore dreamed of.

SUPPOSED STRENGTH OF THE MORMONS.—Various calculations have been going the rounds of the papers of late, as to the estimated number of the Mormons in Utah, and the armed force which they could possibly bring into the field against the United States troops. Hitherto the estimates seem to have been greatly exaggerated. The Sacramento Union gives the following on the subject:—

"According to the United States census of 1850, the whole Mormon population, men women and children, amounted to 11,335. In 1852, from the Minutes of the Mormon General Conference, it appears that the population had increased 6,851, making the total 18,206. Taking the same ratio of increase, we have the whole Mormon population in 1857 amounting to 31,012. Taking out the relative proportion of children which existed in 1852, with the increase of population, say 9,000, we have left 22,012. Deduct from this amount one-half for the women, the same proportion that existed in 1853, and there remains 11,006 fighting men, including those somewhat advanced. This is probably the whole fighting strength of the Mormons.

THE MORMON WAR.—The California combination for carrying on the Mormon war from that side of the mountains has effected its object.—Gen. Scott will start for California next week, with full powers from Government to organize in that State an army for the invasion of Utah, if the latest advices from Salt Lake City, which he shall receive in California, are such as to warrant the prosecution of hostilities. In that case he will employ the regulars now on the Pacific side, and will also call upon the Governor of California for volunteers.

He expects to reach Salt Lake in June, simultaneously with Col. Johnston. It is a part of his plan of operations to conduct the army up the Colorado River, which is believed to be navigable for three hundred miles above the junction with the Gila, and in the exact direction of Utah. An officer of the army is now engaged in surveying the river, and so far as it has been yet examined, it has been found a deep stream, without shoal or falls, with a current of three miles an hour.—Wash. Cor. N. Y. Tribune 23d inst.

AN EXTRAORDINARY OCCURRENCE.—AN OLD FABLE REALIZED.—"A cook in the family of a citizen of Augusta, Ga., in cleaning a fowl, a few days since, found a cone shaped piece of gold, valued at five dollars in the gizzard."

We copy the above to correct an error. It was not a "cone shaped piece of gold" thus extraordinarily discovered. It was a lottery ticket issued from the legalized lottery firm of S. Swan & Co., of Augusta, Ga. The ticket thus miraculously delivered turned up to be a prize and a capital prize at that. The numerous papers that have published the above fabulous statement should in justice make this correction. Swan & Co's lotteries offer extraordinary inducements. We understand the capital prize to be $60,000; and tickets for the fabulously small sum of $10 for whole numbers, and 5 and 2½ for halves and quarters, are offered to those wishing to make these investments

A FAITHFUL DOG.—During the time that Comstock was engaged in murdering his father and mother, near Hamilton, N. After he lay down, the faithful dog sat all night watching by his lifeless mistress.—During the whole examination of the bodies on the inquest, this faithful animal remained under the bed, and could not be removed from the room.

UNRIVALED ATTRACTIONS.

EMERSON'S MAGAZINE
AND PUTNAM'S MONTHLY.
TWO GREAT MAGAZINES IN ONE.
$90,000 COPIES THE FIRST MONTH!!!

MAGNIFICENT PROGRAMME for 1858. $20,000 IN SPLENDID WORKS OF ART. FIVE-DOLLAR ENGRAVINGS TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER. The great Literary offer. Agents getting rich.

The union of EMERSON'S MAGAZINE and PUTNAM'S MONTHLY has given to the consolidated work a circulation second to but one similar publication in the country, and has secured for it a combination of literary and artistic talent probably unrivaled by any other magazine in the world. During the first month, the sale in the trade and demand from subscribers exceeded 90,000 copies, and the numbers already issued of the consolidated work are universally conceded to have surpassed, in the richness of their literary contents, and the beauty and profuseness of their pictorial illustrations, any magazine ever before issued from the American press. Encouraged by these evidences of favor, the publishers have determined to commence the new volume in January with still additional attractions, and to offer such inducements to subscribers as cannot fail to place it, in circulation, at the head of American magazines. With this view they now announce the following splendid programme. They have purchased that superb and costly steel-plate engraving, and will present a copy of it to every three-dollar subscriber for the year 1858. It was engraved at a cost of over $6,000 by the late celebrated A. L. Dick, from the original of Raphael Morghen, after Leonardo Da Vinci, and is the largest steel-plate engraving ever executed in this country, being three times the size of the ordinary three-dollar engravings.

"THE LAST SUPPER,"

The first impressions of this engraving are held at $10, and it was the intention of the artist that none of the engravings should ever be offered for a less sum than $5, being richly worth that amount. Thus every three-dollar subscriber will receive the Magazine one year—cheap at $3—and this splendid engraving, richly worth $5; thus getting for $3 the value of $8.

We shall commence striking off the engravings immediately, yet it can hardly be expected that impressions of so large a plate can be taken as fast as they will be called for by subscribers. We shall, therefore, furnish them in the order in which subscriptions are received. Those who desire to obtain their engravings early, and from the first impressions should send their subscriptions without delay.—The engraving can be sent on rollers, by mail, or in any other manner, as subscribers shall order.

$20,000 IN WORKS OF ART.

In addition to the superb engraving of "THE LAST SUPPER," which will be presented to every three-dollar subscriber for 1858, the publishers have completed arrangements for the distribution, on the 25th of December, 1858, of a series of splendid works of art, consisting of one hundred rich and rare Oil Paintings, valued at from $100 to $1,000 each. Also, 2,000 magnificent Steel-Plate Engravings, worth from $3 to $5 each, and 1,000 choice Holiday Books, worth from $1 to $5 each, making, in all, over THREE THOUSAND GIFTS, worth TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Inclose $3 to the publishers and you will commence receiving the Magazine by return mail. You will also receive with the first copy a numbered subscription receipt entitling you to the Engraving of

"THE LAST SUPPER,"

and a chance to draw one of those "THREE THOUSAND PRIZES."

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD SUBSCRIBE FOR EMERSON'S MAGAZINE For 1858.

First: Because its literary contents will, during the year, embrace contributions from over ONE HUNDRED different writers and thinkers, numbering among them the most distinguished of American authors.

Second: Because its editorial departments, "Our Studio," "Our Window," and "Our Olio," will be conducted by an able editor—and it will surpass, in the variety and richness of its editorial contents, any other magazine.

Third: Because it will contain, during the year, nearly six hundred original pictorial illustrations from designs by the first American artists.

Fourth: Because for the sum of $3 you will receive this splendid monthly, more richly worth that sum than any other magazine, and the superb engraving of "THE LAST SUPPER," worth $5.

Fifth: Because you will very likely draw one of the three thousand prizes to be distributed on the 25th day of December, 1858—perhaps one that is worth $1,000.

Notwithstanding that these extraordinary inducements can hardly fail to accomplish the objects of the publishers without further efforts, yet they have determined to continue through the year,

THE GREAT LIBRARY OFFER.

To any person who will get up a club of twenty-four subscribers, either at one or more post-offices, we will present a splendid Library, consisting of over Forty Large Bound Volumes, embracing the most popular works in the market. The club may be formed at the club price, $2 a year, without the engraving, or at the full price, $3 with the engraving of the Last Supper to each subscriber. List and subscription of the Library, and specimen copy of the Magazine will be forwarded on receipt of 25 cents. Over 200 Libraries or 3,000 volumes, have already been distributed in accordance with this offer, and we should be glad of an opportunity to furnish a Library to every clergyman, to every school teacher, or to some one at every post-office in the country.

AGENTS GETTING RICH.

The success which our agents are meeting with is almost astonishing. Among the many evidences of this fact, we are permitted to publish the following:

GENTLEMEN—The following facts in relation to what your Agents are doing in this section, may be of use to some enterprising young man in want of employment. The Rev. John E. Jardon, of this place, has made, since last Christmas, over $4,000 in his agency. Mr. David M. Heath, of Ridgly, Mo., your General Agent for Platt County, is making $8 per day on each Sub-Agent employed by him, and Messrs. Welmer and Evans, of Oregon, Mo., your Agents for Holt County, are making from $5 to $25 per day, and your humble servant has made, since the seventh day of last January, over $1,700, besides paying for 300 acres of land out of the business worth over $1,000. You are at liberty to publish this statement, if you like, and to refer to any of the parties named.

DANIEL GREGG, Carrolton Mo.

With such inducements as we offer, anybody can obtain subscribers. We invite every gentleman out of employment, and every lady who desires a pleasant money-making occupation to apply at once for an agency. Applicants should inclose 25 cents for a specimen copy of the Magazine which will always be forwarded with answer to application, by return mail.

SPECIMEN ENGRAVING.

As we desire to place in the hands of every person who proposes to get up a club, and also of every agent, a copy of the engraving of "THE LAST SUPPER," as a specimen, each applicant inclosing us $3 will receive the engraving, post paid. He will also receive a specimen of our publication and one of the numbered subscription receipts, entitling the holder to the Magazine one year and to a chance in the distribution. This offer is made only to those who desire to act as agents, or to form clubs. Address

THE NEW YORK STEAM SAW-MILL AND MACHINE COMPANY. CAPITAL $250,000.

This company have been organized with the above capital for the purpose of supplying the demand for the COMBINATION PORTABLE STEAM SAW-MILL, AND OTHER IMPROVED MACHINERY.

They have purchased the entire machinery business heretofore conducted by J. M. Emerson & Co., also the Montgomery Works at Yonkers, on the Hudson near this city, and with the experience and facilities combined in its organization are prepared to furnish machinery of all kinds at more liberal rates, than heretofore offered by any other establishment.

THE COMBINATION SAW-MILL was patented October, 1856, and is now generally acknowledged to be the cheapest, most practical, and efficient [illegible] machine in the world. A large number of them are in successful operation in different sections of this country, Canada, Cuba, and South America, where [illegible] have been tested they are [illegible] by lumber manufacturers [illegible]

The following letter expresses the general opinion of those who are using the Combination Mill:

Messrs. EMERSON & Co.—Gentlemen: I have tried the sawmill purchased of you [illegible] well, and [illegible] pleased [illegible] my expectations. I am well [illegible] I set it up on a small stream that afforded [illegible] than sufficient to supply the boiler. [illegible] 000 feet of beautiful lumber in 12 hours, with [illegible] one cord of wood. It is the very thing [illegible] needed in our country for a long time [illegible] and expense, we are able to move it from [illegible] it up in the heart of the [illegible] den of [illegible] great bur[illegible]

Yours, respectfully, [illegible]

The Company have purchased [illegible] PATENT FEED ARRANGEMENT, which is [illegible] described in the Scientific American for October 24th. This adds greatly to the efficiency of the mill.

THE COMBINATION MILL, with all the recent improvements, with power and steam power of 15 horses, is capable of sawing from 5,000 to 8,000 feet in twelve hours.

THE NEW YORK CIRCULAR SAW-MILL, [illegible] is manufactured only by this Company. It is of superior construction, and sold for 25 per cent less than other mills or greater capacity. A mill with 35 to 54 inch saw can be sold for $300 to $500, and with a 20 horse engine and boiler for $2,500.

STEAM ENGINES and BOILER ENGINES, [illegible] one to 100 horse power; LOCOMOTIVE, TUBULAR, FLUE and CYLINDER BOILERS furnished at greatly reduced prices upon quotation.

Drawings, plans and specifications for buildings and machinery furnished gratis to our customers.

Competent mechanics are sent out to erect [illegible]

We also manufacture SHINGLE MACHINES, PLANING MACHINES, SUGAR MILLS, AND MACHINERY IN GENERAL.

Special attention [illegible] shafting and PULLIES for woolen manufacturing [illegible] mills and WRIGHT WORK.

ALWAYS SOMETHING New. READ THIS—OLD AND YOUNG.

PROFESSOR WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Is, no doubt, the most wonderful discovery of this age of progress, for it will restore, permanently, gray hair to its original color, cover the head of the bald with a most luxuriant growth, remove at once all dandruff and itching, cure all scrofula, and other cutaneous eruptions, such as scald head, etc. It will cure, as if by magic, nervous or periodical headache; make the hair soft, glossy and preserve the color perfectly, and the hair from falling, to extreme age. The following is from a distinguished member of the medical profession:

ST. PAUL, January 1, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir:—Unsolicited, I send you this certificate. After being nearly bald for a long time, and having tried all the hair restoratives extant, and having no faith in any, I was induced, on hearing of yours, to give it a trial. I placed myself in the hands of a barber, who had my head rubbed with a good stiff brush, and the Restorative then applied and well rubbed in, till the scalp was aglow. This I repeated every morning, and in three weeks the young hair appeared and grew rapidly from August 1st till the present time, and is now thick, black and strong, soft and pleasant to the touch; whereas, before, it was harsh and wiry, what little there was of it, and that little was disappearing very rapidly. I still use your Restorative about twice a week, and shall soon have a good and perfect crop of hair. Now I had read all those things—and who has not?—but have not seen hitherto any case where any person's hair was really benefitted by any of the hair tonics, etc., of the day; and it really gives me pleasure to record the result of my experience. I have recommended your preparation to others, and it already has a large and general sale throughout the Territory. The people here like its effects and have confidence in it. The supply you sent us as wholesale agents for the Territory, is nearly exhausted, and daily inquiries are made for it. You deserve credit for your discovery, and I, for one, return you my thanks for the benefit it has done me, for I certainly had despaired long ago of effecting any such result. Yours, truly,

J. W. BOND,
Firm of Bond & Kelly, Druggists, St. Paul.

From the Editor of the Real Estate Advertiser.

BOSTON, March 20, 1856.

DEAR SIR:—Having become prematurely quite gray, I was induced, some six weeks since, to make a trial of your Restorative. I have used less than two bottles, but the gray hairs have all disappeared; and although my hair has not fully attained its original color, yet the process of change is gradually going on, and I am in great hopes that in a short time my hair will be as dark as formerly. I have also been much gratified at the healthy moisture and vigor of the hair, which before was harsh and dry; and it has ceased to come out as formerly.

Respectfully yours, D. C. M. RUPP.

CARLYLE, Illinois, June 9, 1855.

I have used Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its wonderful effect. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative, it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt, permanently so.

ONLY ONE BOTTLE OF DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR OR LIVER REMEDY,

Is required to cure any one troubled with Liver Complaint unless the most desperate of cases, when the second bottle will, with scarcely a single failure, restore the patient to health and vigor. We wish to call the attention of all to the facts, that the Invigorator is compounded by a physician who has used it in his practice for the last twenty years with a success almost credulous, and it is entirely vegetable, being composed wholly of gums.

Some idea of the strength of these gums may be formed when it is known one bottle of the Invigorator contains as much strength as one hundred doses of Calomel without any of its deleterious effects.

One bottle is the surest thing known to carry away the bad effects of mineral poison of any kind.

Only one bottle of it is needed to throw out of the system the effect of medicine after a long sickness.

One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all yellowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring prevents nightmare.

One dose taken at night loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

One bottle taken for female obstructions removes the cause of the disease, and makes a perfect cure.

Only one dose immediately relieves Cholic, while one dose often repeated is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus, and a sure preventative of Cholera.

One dose taken often will prevent the recurrence of Bilious attacks, while it relieves all painful feelings.

☞ One or two doses taken occasionally is one of the best remedies for cold ever known.

Thousands of cures of inflammation and weakness of the lungs have been cured by the Invigorator.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite and makes food digest well.

One dose often repeated cures Diarrhoea in its worst forms, while summer and bowel complaints yield almost to the first dose.

One or two doses cures attacks caused by worms, while for worms in children, there is no surer, safer or speedier remedy in the world, as it never fails.

There is no exaggeration in these statements; they are plain and sober facts, that we can give evidence to prove, while all who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

We wish all who are sick and debilitated to give this remedy, and test it thoroughly, and any who are benefitted by its use we should like to hear from, as we wish to hear from the first person who has used the Invigorator without receiving benefit, for there are enough medicinal virtues in it, that all, no matter how they have been affected, if their complaint arises from a deranged liver, will be benefitted, if not entirely cured.

Editors' Sufferings.—What better commentary on the remissness of newspaper subscribers to perform their duty manfully, than the following brief article, from the pen of a Burlington (N. J.) editor. Although short, it contains a world of meaning. We advise every one of our readers to read it carefully and reflect over it seriously. Those to whom it does not apply, will then see what a fearful sin they have refrained from committing, while those to whom it does, should be prompted, by its perusal, to immediately make amends, and to carefully avoid rendering themselves liable to such complaints in future:

"Where is money coming from to pay for paper for our next issue? We cannot get a quire without the cash in advance. We have borrowed until our credit is gone. We have worked two years for nothing, and boarded ourselves—or rather our wife has boarded us "free, gratis, for nothing." Our compositors want their wages. Our landlord wants his rent. Our children want shoes, and our wife wants a new calico dress. We are out of wood, out of potatoes, out of flour, out of meat, out of sugar, out of patience—in short of nearly every thing, except a clear conscience. We dodged the Sheriff until we could no longer, and have dodged our creditors until we are tired. We have not a shilling in our pocket and you owe us two thousand dollars! We are trying to live a christian life, and hope to get to heaven. It affords us no satisfaction to think we shall meet you there. We should greatly prefer to have you pay us, and thereby remove a very great obstacle in your way of reaching that place of rest."

Marriages and Deaths.—We have frequently requested our subscribers and others to furnish us with the particulars of all the marriages and deaths, of which they may be cognizant, in order that we may publish the same. Many of our readers expect us to publish all the cases of this kind which occur in the town and surrounding country, and we would cheerfully do so could we obtain the particulars in each case, but we have not got time to hunt them up, even if we knew of them, though in many instances we do not hear of them at all. As we publish such items free of charge, we think it is asking but little that we should be furnished with the particulars. Within the last month we have observed three or four funeral processions pass our office each week; and yet we have not been furnished with a single notice.—We furnish our paper free of charge to ministers of all denominations, and only ask in return that they furnish us with all the marriages at which they officiate, or deaths which occur in their congregations. We hope they will do this.

Housebreaking.—On last Sunday evening some person or persons broke into the clothing store of Ettinger and Ullman, in this place, and relieved the proprietors of some small change which was in the till, a revolver, a pair of boots and a vest. The thieves effected an entrance through the back door, by means of a chisel. The chisel was left as an offset for the things taken. Friend Ullman does not seem at all satisfied with the manner in which his revolver "went off." When is is tarken into consideration that the robbery was perpetrated between 7 and 9 o'clock in the evening, the daring of the thief or thieves seems remarkable. Our citizens had better exercise a watchful care over their premises.

The Weather.—Since our last article on this subject there has been a decided change.—The earth is now covered with a mantle of snow some two or three inches deep, while the air is considerably cooler. We are satisfied with the change, if it will continue long enough to afford a good supply of ice for next summer's consumption. All doubts on this subject are now almost removed, as we learn that the river is frozen over at Hollidaysburg. If we had a few inches more snow, good sleighing could be had in abundance. We wonder what has become of his ground-hogship, as when he appeared on last Monday he failed to see his shadow. We suppose he has got scared and scampered back into his hole again.

Our Black List.—As many of our contemporaries throughout the State are publishing a "Black List," in which the names of those who have swindled them are prominently set forth, we have concluded to "follow suit." We are busily engaged in getting one up, and next week shall publish chapter 1. It is emphatically one of "lengthened sweetness long drawn out," and many, who do not expect it, will be surprised to see their names occupying prominent positions in it. Ye who have coolly swindled us during the last two years, if ye don't fancy "Waitin' for the Wagon," had better "pony up" "instanter," as "no favor sways us, no fear shall awe."

Improvement.—We notice that workmen are now busily engaged in laying another track in front of our office, to connect with the siding on which the Hollidaysburg Branch train, and empty passenger and baggage cars used to stand. When completed, we understand that the empty cars will be placed below the switch in front of our office, the Branch train will stand upon the main track, and all the passenger trains, which take meals here, will switch on the siding, and thus stop directly in front of the Logan House. This is a desirable improvement and will be of great convenience to the traveling public, especially in disagreeable weather.

[illegible]ugh Officers.—John W. Humes is out [illegible] is a candidate for Justice of the ensuing Borough election.—[illegible] good man and will if elected [illegible] officer. [illegible] also out in a card as a candidate [illegible] constable. He is well [illegible] and will if elected make [illegible]

Sheriffality.—As will be seen by reference [illegible] column, our fellow townsman, John [illegible]fel, signifies his intention of being a candidate for the office of Sheriff, at the next October election. Mr. Warfel is a good man and will if elected, make a [illegible] officer.

Valentines.—[illegible] has just opened out at his Literary Emporium, a large and varied assortment of Valentines—sentimental and comic, which are now going off like hot cakes. Ye love-sick swains and damsels who are head over ears in love, but afraid to acknowledge the fact are allowing "concealment like a worm i' the bud prey on your damask cheeks," had better embrace the opportunity afforded you by St. Valentine to send a love missive. It may save you years of sorrow and may gain you a life partner. Try it on.

HOME CORRESPONDENCE.

[From Our Own Correspondents.]

Sinking Valley, Feb. 1, 1858.

Pardon me for the intrusion of sending you another communication. Since I last wrote to you, nothing of importance has transpired in this part of beau monde. For this reason I have selected three subjects on which to diffuse my meditations.

> "These three bear mighty sway with men,"
> The Sword, the Sceptre and the Pen."

Fearful indeed have been the blighting consequences occasioned by the sword. Kingdoms have been almost deluged in blood, and empires laid waste by its devastating influence. Continents have been set in commotion, and their inhabitants appalled by its glittering edge. By it, mighty revolutions have been brought about which changed the position and destiny of nations. Crowned heads have trembled, and thrones have crumbled before it. The sword in the hands of an Alexander, a Caesar, a Hannibal, or a Napoleon, was weilded with skill and power. In their hands, it was the instrument of slaughtering millions of human beings, overturning dynasties, filling the inhabitants of populous cities with terror at the mere mention of their names, and causing families to flee from their homes and seek shelter in the solitary and dreary wilderness. These are but a few of the numerous evil results of the power of the sword. From time immemorial, it has been the instrument with which haughty monarchs and oppressors of the people have maintained their sway. When any darling scheme was projected, with a view to further their avaricious designs, their resort was to the sword. Time would fail us to speak of the different eras in the history of the world, that were imortalized by its stupendous results. They were characterized by scenes of carnage and blood. History reveals to us, in characters of livid light, that the sword has caused heinous crimes, raised to eminence and distinction the basest of mortals, and subserved the most injurious purposes of those who wielded it, while it suppressed truth and propagated superstition in all its cursed forms. On the other hand it has ameliorated the condition of man, released the prisoner and thrown from off his neck oppression's galling yoke, propagated the cause of religion, advocated justice, and aided in spreading truth and commanding respect to laws, civil and ecclesiastical.

The sword did the work, but the sceptre, in too many cases, was the object to be obtained. The ensign of royal authority and power caused ambitious minds to seek no other gratification than that its possessor might bear it, whether acquired by honesty or stratagem. Every other object in life was forsaken, every principle sacrificed at its shrine, by attempting to reach that coveted goal. Hence the bodies of millions were consigned to torture, their characters held up to ignominy and shame. That was the cause which gave keenness to the edge of the sword and nerved the arm that held it. All other circumstances were subordinate to it. It was gazed upon with envious eyes, as it was held by rival kings. Stratagem and treachery bore conspicuous parts in the attempts to gain it, and no artifice was left untried by the contending parties. The sword has slain its thousands, but the sceptre has tortured its millions. Let the misery of oppressed nations speak of the wrongs sustained by its cruel sway.

We turn with pleasure to a more pleasing part of our subject—the pen—the mightiest and most potent of the trio. When we consider the glorious results of this champion of civilization, we are ready to despair of portraying them in their proper light. As we look back along the mazy stream of time, we see that the effusions of the pen have never been engulphed beneath its ebbing tides, nor ceased to shed their hallowed light upon the benighted minds of nations. The achievments of the pen reveals something unto us of greater moment than the slaughtering of human beings upon ambitious blood-stained altars. How unlike the lauded actions of the renowned votaries of ambition. Instead of spreading ruin and desolation over the land, it lifted the veil of darkness that enshrouded nations, and light and intelligence entered. We have the great thoughts of genius, and its words of surpassing eloquence handed down to us through succeeding generations.—Although the hands that penned them are now motionless, yet the authors' names are still honored and appreciated by christian hearts, and mentioned only to be admired and loved. Their pure words, unsullied by the flight of ages, and preserved from the ruins of corrupted nations, and trasmitted to us in all their beauty, pathos and fidelity. The "Words of Life" were first written and then given to us. They have been spread abroad and cast over continents by other pens, while millions of superstitious minds have been enlightened.

The pen did all this and more. It has been the champion of liberty, the proclaimer of glad tidings to the discontented, the weapon of defence against error and the vindicator of justice. Nations, in preserving their rights untrammelled, have used it most successfully. May it ever be used for noble purposes, in preserving our liberties, spreading truth and promoting virtue. May it ever serve as a beacon light to warn us of the approach of danger, whereby we may avoid the calamities and vices of life to which human nature is heir.

Our highly respected citizen, Mr. Robert Crawford, who, a few weeks ago, met with a very serious accident, while crossing the mountain, is now at home and is fast recovering. May he soon be able to "bob around" again.

MAC.

Springfield Furnace, Feb. 1st, 1858.

I am afraid you will [illegible] begin to think that the correspondent on this side of the county is becoming remiss in his duty, but the fact is we are such a quiet, unpretending sort of people, that news are scarce. We have no litigation to disturb us, no Military to excite our patriotism no drunkenness to disgust us.

Religion and Education are the themes of nearly all conversations, this to aid our minds in their search after truth, that to enable us to apply its principles to our necessities. Since I have been in this section of the country (five months) I have not witnessed a single quarrel between neighbors; and it is but seldom that profane language is heard. This certainly speaks well for this place, where are found representatives from many nations, and as many different creeds. We have here the Lutheran, Methodist, United Brethren, Presbyterian, Catholic and Winebrenarian, all living together in peace and harmony, each seemingly interested in the other's welfare.

On Friday last I started to visit some of the Schools in this District with the intention of giving you a report of my visitation. I started accordingly, for Williamsburg intending to give Prof. Miller the first call, but unfortunately the door was "obseratus," the Prof. having gone to Lecture before a Teacher's Association. This put me a little out of sort, but "what can't be cured, must be endured" was my consolation.

I next knocked at Miss Cunningham's door and was promptly admitted into the Girls High School. Here were many smiling faces, which were very sure indices of happy hearts. Several classes passed through their accustomed duties very creditably, not only to themselves but to their Instructress. Indeed the manner in which they spoke or read or whatever was done, at once showed that they had been under the direction of one whose duty was understood and well discharged. The room is commodious and comfortable, blackboard surface good, desks calculated for two pupils with aisles between. Many of the desks and some of the windows were decorated with flowers and other fixings of which the young Ladies know much better the names and uses than I.

The teacher is undoubtedly well prepared to conduct a school of this kind, as any one will evidence who will give themselves the pleasure of a visit. Owing to want of time I made no more visits that day, but promise myself the pleasure hereafter. The next thing in order was to prepare the "matches" for the home journey which was performed well.

On Saturday evening 30th ult, we had a spelling match in the Furnace School-house.—At an early hour the house was filled, and the parties arranged themselves in battle array, after having sung several pieces to enliven and stir up the trembling hearts of the youthful contestants, and the spelling began. It was a well-fought battle—"Greek met Greek." In an hour's spelling only twenty eight words were misspelled. After intermission the Class sang "Home, can I forget thee," "A Tear for every Gallant Soul," and "Little Drops of Water," to the evident satisfaction of all present.

Now came the "tug of war," spelling off the floor. Both parties now spelled their best, and the contest was well sustained, but all things (except a ring) have an end. The victors were Master Clarence McAlister, son of the Manager, and Miss Maggie J. Tiperry, daughter of J. W. Tiperry, ex County Auditor. The crowd dispersed very orderly and much pleased.

I had intended giving you a description of our Rail Road, but have already I suppose, run you out of patience, so I will give you that at some other time.

ALPHA.

Who that is troubled with any of those disagreeable Complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia or Liver Diseases of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for these unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers ever before used. Its action is so perfect and complete as to give relief the first time taken, and if it does to others as it has to us, half a bottle will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with such confidence, as a family medicine, as the Invigorator.

The Panic—More Failures.—The panic in New York seems to be on the increase. In this city everything goes on smoothly, and the only failures we have heard of were the failures to furnish good fits made by some inferior clothing establishments. There is no such difficulty to be encountered by those who patronize the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill and Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chesnut street, above sixth. Gentleman and youths never fail to procure capital fits at this popular establishment.

Du Vall's Galvanic Oil acts on the system by imparting to the diseased part a natural current of electricity, by which the restoration of all the natural functions are produced immediately, and a cure is at once obtained. This is the great secret which no other medicine in the world has got, and hence the great success this medicine has in curing diseases.

A CARD—TO THE LADIES.

—Dr. Duponco's Golden French Pills are infallible in removing stopages and irregularities of the menses. These Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the doctors for many years, both in France and America, with unparalleled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities of whatever nature, as well as to prevent pregnancy to to those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family.—Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the Proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition altho' their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box. Price $1 per box. Sold wholesale and retail by G. W. KESSLER, General Agent for Altoona and vicinity. He will supply dealers at proprietor's prices, and send the Pills to ladies (confidentially) by return mail on receipt of $1 through the Altoona Post Office. Each box has my signature, J. PROSPECTUS OF THE ALTOONA TRIBUNE. For 1858.

THE CASH SYSTEM ADOPTED!

The Cheapest Paper in the County!

With the present number, the Tribune has entered upon its third volume. Commenced at a time when the confidence of the citizens of Altoona in newspapers and newspaper publishers was considerably shaken, if not totally annihilated, it has slowly but surely restored that confidence, and now stands upon a sure foundation, and is universally acknowledged to be one of the fixed institutions of our town. But this result has not been achieved without a hard struggle, and considerable expenditure of time and means on the part of its editors. The steady increase of patronage, however, has afforded indubitable evidence that their labors have been appreciated.

In entering upon the new volume it is almost unnecessary to say that the Tribune will continue to be "Independent in Everything," being biassed neither by fear, favor nor affection, in favor of parties or sects. In this respect it is only necessary to say that the past affords a fair index as to our future course.

It has always been our aim to make the Tribune, a reliable first-class Local Paper, as we believe that in that character alone, country papers can successfully compete with their flashy city neighbors. To this end we have secured correspondents in various parts of the county, who furnish us with all the items of local interest in their vicinity. We purpose adding others to our list as soon as we can obtain them. During the next year we shall redouble our efforts to make the Tribune a perfect compendium of Home News—a reliable, first-class Local Paper, second to none in the country, and as such a welcome weekly visitor to our patrons, whether at home or abroad.

But while the Local Department shall be our special care, we shall also devote a considerable space to Literary Matter, Fun and Humor, and the chronicling of events of general interest to our readers. We purpose also publishing from time to time "Original Sketches of Men and Things" which will be furnished by our contributors. We have made arrangements also to have a weekly letter from Philadelphia, and judging from the reputation our correspondent sustains as a popular writer, these letters will be a rich treat to our readers.

As we are decidedly journalists of the progressive school, we have concluded to adopt the cash system in our business. The neglect of quite a number of our patrons to pay up promptly, and the rascality of others, has compelled us to adopt this course. Time and experience has fully proved to our satisfaction that the credit system will not work with newspaper publishers. From this date no paper will be sent from this office, unless paid for in advance, and at the expiration of the time paid for, if not renewed, will be promptly stopped. This arrangement does no injustice to our patrons, while it will protect us from the impositions of soulless scoundrels, and enable us to devote more attention to our paper.

Recognizing, the principle that contracts to be satisfactory should be fraught with mutual benefit to both parties, and as money in large amounts, in advance, is of more value to us than when received in driblets, as an inducement to numbers who would otherwise discontinue, as well as to those who have never yet taken the paper, we offer it at the following low rates for the coming year:

1 copy, one year			$1 50
10 copies	"	($1.25 per copy)	12 50
20 "	"	($1.00 per copy)	20 00

and all above 20 at the same rate—$1 per copy.

The money must, in all cases, accompany the order.

By the above it will be seen that our paper is emphatically the cheapest in the county.—As to its merits we leave in to the public to decide. We earnestly request our friends throughout the county to "give us a lift," as we have no doubt each of them can readily obtain a club in their neighborhood.

Canvassers Wanted.—Several energetic business men wanted to canvass the county for subscribers to the Tribune. A liberal per-centage will be allowed.

AGENTS, ATTENTION!—DO YOU wish to find good employment, and make money with little or no investment, and without interfering with your regular business? If you do, read this advertisement. C. E. TODD & Co., of 392 Broome Street, New York, are manufacturing and selling massive gold Pencils for $5 each, (which are cheap at that price,) and they throw in a gift or Prize with each Pencil, worth from $2 up to $5, $10, $15, $20, $25, $30, $50, $70, $100, $200, $500. Don't cry out, "Humbug! Lottery!" It's no such thing. The Pencils are sold at their cash value, and all the profits over the first cost are thrown into the gifts, which actually cost the purchaser nothing. The prizes are distributed on a simple plan of drawing, which would take too much room to explain, but which has never failed to give complete satisfaction.—We have drawn and sent to purchasers 183 gold watches of various prices, 74 purses of gold dollars, 238 gold lockets, 850 gold chains, and a corresponding number of other prizes, within two months.

THERE ARE NO BLANKS,

but every purchaser draws a prize worth $2 certain, and it stands thousands of chances to be a higher figure.

We want a good agent in every neighborhood throughout the country to solicit purchasers, and any agent, to be successful, must have a Pencil and prize to exhibit. We pay agents $1 cash for each purchaser he obtains, and the first person in any neighborhood who applies for a Pencil and gift, will receive the agency for that locality. Should an agent obtain a valuable prize to exhibit with his Pencil, he would have little difficulty in obtaining scores of purchasers, and making it a paying business.

A NEW IDEA! READ!! READ!!!

We ask not only to send their money till they know what prize they draw. Any person wishing to try their luck, can first send us their name and address, and we will make their drawing and inform them by return mail what prize they drew, when they can send on and take the Pencil and prize, or not, whichever they choose. We give this privilege only once to a purchaser. After the first drawing, every purchaser will be required to send in advance, through the authorized agent. We will send with each drawing the number taken out, with full description of the plan of drawing. Address, C. E. TODD & Co.,

ITCH! ITCH!! ITCH!!!

BARNES' ITCH OINTMENT is the only remedy which thoroughly cures that dreaded disease—the SEVEN YEARS' ITCH—now prevailing to so great an extent. The usual remedies, such as Brimstone, Tar and Precipitate Ointments, are of no use. Many who have used them have been compelled to use Barnes' Itch Ointment, and found it the only cure. It is now the only remedy in which physicians place any reliance.

FROSTED FEET.

Jack Frost has recommenced his reign and BARNES' REMEDY FOR FROSTED FEET is the only one that will cure those whom he has attacked. Apply this remedy for a few days and a cure will be effected. The first application gives relief. It has cured cases where the skin has bursted.

RHEUMATISM.

[illegible] celebrated Liniment, called HYDER ALI [illegible] has cured more cases of Rheumatism than [illegible] For the cure of Pains in the Side, Limbs [illegible] Throat, Swellings of the Joints and Limbs [illegible] Bruises, it has no equal. As a Liniment for Horses, in [illegible] ring Galls, Cuts, Sores, Strains, Swellings, and all other external injuries, Bone Spavin only accepted, all who have used it give it the preference over all others.

COUGHS AND COLDS.

BARNES' COUGH SYRUP, composed entirely of Vegetables, is a sure cure for Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis, it is without any exception, the best remedy known, of which fact thousands can testify. It will be found the best remedy that can be used for children.

Prepared only at Barnes' Drug Store, Trenton, N. J.—Sold by G. W. KESSLER, Altoona, and B. Page Jr. & Co., Pittsburg. [May 14, '57-1y.

ALTOONA SAVING FUND.—JESSE SMITH would respectfully inform the citizens of Altoona and the public generally that he has just returned from the East with a large and varied assortment of

HATS AND CAPS,

Which he purchased at low prices for cash and will sell at

at but a small advance on the original cost. His stock comprises HATS and CAPS of every description, size and shape. All who are in want of anything in his line will do well to give him a call, as he feels confident he can suit the most fastidious, in quality and price.

He has now on hand a beautiful stock of LADIES FUR CAPES, CUFFS, &c., to which he invites the attention of the ladies, and also gentlemen who wish to make their wives a handsome and useful present.

He is always ready and willing to exhibit his stock free of charge, so that none need fear to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

Remember that his store is on Virginia street, directly opposite the Lutheran Church. [Oct. 15-tf.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION.—The subscriber takes pleasure in announcing to the citizens of Altoona and its vicinity, that he has opened a STORE in the ROOM formerly occupied by G. W. Patton, on Virginia street, where he will be happy to exhibit to them his splendid stock of which will be found entirely new and fresh. His stock is carefully selected and was purchased strictly for CASH, which just at this important time has enabled him to buy exceedingly low, and having adopted the is determined to ask but "Small Profits and Quick Sales." Among his stock will be found everything appertaining to Ladies and Gentlemen's wear, as well as all articles of Groceries,

Queensware,

Hardware, &c., &c.,

usually kept in a town or country store. He respectfully invites a careful inspection of his stock.

Whole Tickets $10; Halves $5; Quarters $2,50.

PLAN OF THE LOTTERY.

The numbers from 1 to 50,000, corresponding with those numbers on the Tickets printed on separate slips of paper, are encircled in small tin tubes and placed in one Wheel.

The first 475 Prizes, similarly printed and encircled, are placed in another wheel.

The wheels are then revolved, and a number is drawn from the wheel of Numbers, and at the same time a Prize is drawn from the other wheel. The number and prize drawn out are opened and exhibited to the audience, and registered by the Commissioners; the Prize being placed against the number drawn. This operation is repeated until all the Prizes are drawn out.

Approximation Prizes.—The two preceeding and the two succeeding numbers to those drawing the first 7 Prizes will be entitled to the 28 Approximation Prizes. For example: if Ticket No. 11,250 draws the $70,000 Prize, those tickets numbered 11,248, 11,249, 11,251, 11,252, will each be entitled to $400. If Ticket No. 550 draws the $30,000 Prize, those tickets numbered 548, 549, 551, 552, will each be entitled to $300, and so on according to the above scheme.

The 5,000 Prizes of $20 will be determined by the last figure of the number that draws the $70,000 Prize. For example: if the number drawing the $70,000 Prize ends with No. 1, then all the tickets, where the number ends in 1, will be entitled to $20. If the number ends with No. 2, then all the tickets where the number ends in 2 will be entitled to $20, and so on to 0.

Certificates of Packages will be sold at the following rates which is the risk:

ELISHA KENT KANE.—A BIOGRAPHY. By WILLIAM ELDER.

In announcing the LIFE OF DR. KANE, we are but anticipating the wishes of thousands and tens of thousands of the admirers of that great man.

Having been a personal friend of the deceased, and enjoying a full share of his confidence, Dr. Elder is well qualified to do justice to the subject.

This work will be issued in one handsome octavo volume and equal in every respect to the superb volumes of "Arctic Explorations," recently published. It will contain a new full-face portrait, executed on steel, as well as engravings of his residence, tomb, medals, &c.

In order to give this work a large circulation it will be sold at the low price of $1,50.

MORE THAN $300,000 SOLD WITHIN NINE MONTHS.

DR. KANE'S GREAT WORK, ARCTIC EXPLORATIONS.

Is now being read by more than two hundred thousand persons, old and young, learned and unlearned. It is just the book which should be owned and read by every American.

500 NEWSPAPERS,

Have each pronounced it the most remarkable and marvelous work ever published.

THE FOREIGN JOURNALS and the most distinguished savans of Europe are extravagant in its praise.

It is more interesting than ROBISON CRUSOE; being a faithful account of privations and hardships, the narative of which cannot be read without a shudder.

OUR MOST EMINENT MEN have vied with each other in extolling its merits.

Two vols. octavo, superbly illustrated. Three Hundred Engravings. Price $5,00.

DR. KANE'S FIRST NARATIVE.

THE UNITED STATES GRINNELL EXPEDITION IN SEARCH OF SIR JOHN FRANKLIN, during the years 1850–51.

A personal narative by Elisha Kent Kane, M. D., U. S. N. One volume 8vo., upwards of 550 pages, containing 290 steel plates and wood engravings, [illegible] portrait [illegible]

BE CAREFUL TO WHOM YOU TALK.

[illegible] portrait of Sir John Franklin, being the only one [illegible] engraved in America [illegible] by S. Austin Allibone, Esq. $3,00.

The work is totally distinct from the second Arctic Expedition, and embraces much valuable and interesting matter [illegible] before published. [illegible]

A PHOTOGRAPHY OF DR. KANE, TAKEN FROM LIFE BY BRADY OF NEW YORK, PRICE $5,00.

In press,

COL. J. C. FREMONT'S EXPLORATIONS.

PREPARED BY THE AUTHOR, AND EMBRACING ALL HIS EXPEDITIONS.

Superbly illustrated with steel plates and wood cuts, engraved under the immediate superintendence of Col. Fremont, mostly from Daguerreotypes taken on the spot, and will be issued in a style to match Dr. Kane's works. It will also contain a new steel portrait, being the only correct likeness of the author ever published.

Two volumes. Octavo.—$5,00

BRAZIL AND THE BRAZILIANS.

By Rev. D. P. Kidder, of the Methodist Episcopal Church. By Rev. J. C. Fletcher, of the Presbyterian Church.

This new and splendidly-illustrated work (one large volume octavo, in uniform style with the superb volumes of Dr. Kane's Arctic Explorations,) is the joint effort of the above named gentlemen, who, as travellers and missionaries, (and one in an official position as Acting Secretary of the United States Legation at Rio,) have had a long and varied experience in a land full of interest, whether we regard it in a natural, commercial, political or moral point of view. Price $3,00.

Any of the above works will be sent by mail free of postage by remitting the published price.

HOWARD ASSOCIATION, PHILADELPHIA.

A Benevolent Institution, established by special endowment for the relief of the sick and distressed, afflicted with Virulent and Epidemic diseases.

—To all persons afflicted with Sexual Diseases, such as Spermatorrhœa, Sexual Weakness, Impotence, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Syphilis, the vice of Onanism or Self Abuse, &c., &c.

The HOWARD ASSOCIATION, in view of the awful destruction of human life, caused by Sexual Diseases, and the deceptions practised upon the unfortunate victims of such diseases by Quacks, several years ago directed their Consulting Surgeon, as a charitable act worthy of their name, to open a Dispensary for the treatment of this class of diseases, in all their forms, and to give medical advice gratis, to all who apply by letter, with a description of their condition, (age, occupation, habits of life, &c.,) and in cases of extreme poverty and suffering, to furnish medicine free of charge. It is needless to add that the Association commands the highest Medical skill of the age, and will furnish the most approved modern treatment.

The Directors, on a review of the past, feel assured that their labors in this sphere of benevolent effort, have been of great benefit to the afflicted, especially to the young, and they have resolved to devote themselves, with renewed zeal, to this very important but much despised cause.

Just published by the Association, a Report on Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, the vice of Onanism, Masturbation or Self Abuse, and other diseases of the Sexual Organs, by the Consulting Surgeon, which will be sent by mail (in a sealed envelope), free of charge, on the receipt of two postage stamps for postage.

Address, for Report or Treatment, Dr. GEORGE R. CALHOUN, Consulting Surgeon, Howard Association, No. 2 S. Ninth street, Philadelphia, Pa. By order of the Directors.

IMPORTANT TO FARMERS AND LIVERY MEN.

BEATTY'S ARABIAN HORSE OINTMENT is the only medicine in use that will effectually cure Ringbone, Spavin and Splint. It is not claimed for this Ointment, as it is for nearly all other medicines of the day, that it will cure all diseases which horse or man are heir to, but only to cure the above named diseases when used according to directions. Ringbone, Spavin and Splint are diseases of precisely similar character, consequently a medicine which will benefit or cure one is adapted to the other. This Ointment penetrates the horses skin, reaches and converts the callous into matter, and the diseased lump is then discharged in the form of puss or matter through the skin, without removing the hair, if put on according to directions. It has been said by those who have used the Ointment, that it will cure the Poll Evil and Farcy. It is certain, however, that it will cure or remove any callous lumps from a horse, wherever located. Try it, and if after using it a week, according to directions, you are not satisfied as to its efficacy, return the box to the agent and he will refund the money. Price $1,00 per box.

COMPETITION IS THE LIFE OF TRADE.

—Fully convinced of the truth of this saying, the subscriber would respectfully announce to the citizens of Altoona and vicinity that he has entered the field, by opening a MERCHANT TAILORING ESTABLISHMENT, in the room heretofore occupied by Michael Gallagher, immediately opposite the Superintendent's Office, where he will carry on the business as usual. He has just received an excellent assortment of CLOTHS, CASSIMERES & VESTINGS, suitable for working and dress suits, which he will make to order on short notice and at prices which can not fail to suit. He has also received the LATEST STYLES of and feels confident that he can satisfy the most fastidious in this particular, and his clothing will be made as well as clothing can be made. In fine, he is determined that nothing shall be wanting on his part to render satisfaction to those who may favor him with their patronage.

Altoona, Nov. 5-tf.] JOHN TALBOT.

THE GREAT QUESTION

which now agitates the mind of every person is, where can I get the best article for my money? In regard to other matters, the subscriber would not attempt to direct, but if you want anything in the line of he invites an examination of his stock and work.

He keeps constantly on hand an assortment of Boots, Shoes, Gaiters, Slippers, &c., which he offers at fair prices.

He will give special attention to custom work, all of which will be warranted to give satisfaction. None but the best workmen are employed.

P. DUFF, (author of Duff's Book-keeping, President, with a superintendent and five assistant teachers of Book-keeping, and seven other teachers and lecturers.

J. S. DUNCAN, one of the best penmen in the country, (author of the gems of business and ornamental penmanship,) Professor of Penmanship.

Duff's system of Book-keeping is sanctioned by the American Institute and Chamber of Commerce of New York, and many of the leading business men of the East and West, as the most comprehensive and practical system of accounts now in use, and after from ten to fifteen years practical application of its principles to business, over four hundred students have attested its superiority, (circular 19.) All the arrangements for teaching being perfected by near twenty years' experience of the principal, students graduate in about half the time required in other colleges, saving $15 or $20 in board.

Upwards of 4000 students have entered the institution since founded. To obtain full particulars of the collegiate training for business and the character of the institution, send for its pamphlet circular of 50 pages, with samples of Mr. Duncan's writing which are mailed free, and complete assortment of Groceries have just been received at the store of J. B. HILEMAN.

GROCERIES,—A LARGE

Of all disease, the great first cause Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

SUFFER NOT; WHEN A CURE IS GUARANTEED IN ALL CASES OF SECRET DISEASES,

Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Strictures, Gleets, Gravel, Diabetes, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ancles, Diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs Cancers Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitu's Dance, and all diseases arising from a derangement of the Sexual Organs, such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision with peculiar spots appearing before the Eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions on the face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities, and

ALL IMPROPER DISCHARGES FROM BOTH SEXES.

It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines are pleasant without odor, causing no sickness and free from mercury or balsam. During twenty years of practice, I have rescued from the jaws of Death many thousands, who in the last stage of the above mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care, a perfect and most speedy cure. Secret diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of Consumption, Scrofula and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. As a permanent cure is scarcely ever effected, a majority of the cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which, with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid Consumption.

But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in Scrofula, Tetter, Ulcers, Eruptions and other affections of the skin, Eyes, Throat, and Lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

SELF-ABUSE is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system, drawing its thousands of victims, through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the Nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of Self-Abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

The afflicted are cautioned against the use of Patent Medicines, for there are so many ingenious snares in the columns of the public prints to catch and rob the unwary sufferers that millions have their constitutions ruined by the vile compounds of quack doctors, or the equally poisonous nortrums vended as "Patent Medicines." I have carefully analyzed many of the so called Patent Medicines and find that nearly all of them contain Corrosive Sublimate, which is one of the strongest preparations of mercury and a deadly poison, which instead of curing the disease disables the system for life.

Three-fourths of the patent nostrums now in use are put up by unprincipled and ignorant persons, who do not understand even the alphabet of the materia medica, and are equally as destitute of any knowledge of the human system, having one object only in view, and that to make money regardless of consequences.

Irregularities and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by twenty years of practice, and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures. Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the United States or Canadas, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter. Business correspondence strictly confidential. Address

J. SUMMERVILLE, M. D.,

Office No. 1131 Filbert St., (Old No. 109) Below Twelfth, Philadelphia. July 23, '57-1y.

W. T. MARRIOTT'S FEVER AND AGUE CURE.

—As health is the first blessing all mankind desire to enjoy, we take pleasure in presenting to the afflicted, W. T. MARRIOTT'S FEVER AND AGUE MEDICINE, which we can assure the public, without any hesitation, never fails to cure. W. T. MARRIOTT is the only discoverer and compounder in the world, and the medicine is all prepared under his immediate supervision.

How often have we seen our friends almost shaken to pieces with this disease and spending fortunes to obtain relief, but all to no purpose. How many dollars have been spent by our friends for physicians to obtain relief, but in vain? In many cases the disease has been checked—not cured; but this preparation will not only check but effectually cure.

This will also cure Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Pains in the Stomach, and restore a good appetite to the poor Dyspeptic.—Unlike other medicines it is not warranted by its venders to cure each and every disease to which flesh is heir, but we will say that in every case of disease, for which it is recommended, it has invariably been successful.

The following certificates of the merits of this medicine come from persons near home:—

MILLERSTOWN, Perry Co., Aug. 26, 1856.

MR. MARRIOTT, Dear Sir:—Having suffered for three years with the Fever and Ague, and spending during that time some $80 or $90 for Patent Medicines, from which I received no benefit, but on the contrary experienced all the time the greatest amount of agony, I was at last told of your medicine and I thought I would procure a bottle and give it a trial, and I am pleased to say it proved fatal to the disease. From the first dose I took of the medicine I was relieved of the Ague, and am now sound and healthy. I would therefore recommend your medicine to the public, especially to those suffering with Fever and Ague, and hope that it may be spread far and near to relieve the distressed.

SAMUEL S. TAYLOR.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 29, 1857.

Having been afflicted with Ague and Fever in the summer and fall of 1856, I tried almost every remedy that I could hear of, until I was reduced to a mere skeleton, but could get no relief. I was then persuaded to try W. T. Marriott's Fever and Ague Medicine, which, to my great gratification, in a few days cured me entirely. I therefore take pleasure in stating that it is decidedly the best medicine for this disease that I have ever used. CATHARINE MOHRE.

The proprietor of this medicine has in his possession many other testimonials as to the value of his preparation, but deems it useless to publish them. Those who wish to know more about the medicine are requested to ask

Mr. Cook, Engineer, Penna. Rail Road, Harrisburg.

Mr. Mead, " " "

Mr. Robison, Hollidaysburg.

Mr. J. Siders, Pa. R. R., Altoona.

Mr. W. M. Siders, Port Dauphin, near Harrisburg.

Mrs. Loudon and Mrs. M'Glaughlin, Altoona.

Ask the people all around you, in Scotch Valley, Tyrone, Huntingdon, Mifflintown, Millerstown, Newport, &c. what this medicine has done for them.

This medicine has had a number of fair trials and proved successful.

It can be had of G. W. KESSLER, of this place, by the single bottle for $1; or six bottles for $5. [Jan. 28, '57-1y.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY. Consumption AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS AND THROAT ARE POSITIVELY Curable by Inhalation, which conveys the remedies to the cavities in the lungs through the air passages, and coming in direct contact with the disease, neutralizes the tubercular matter, allays the cough, causes a free and easy expectoration, heals the lungs, purifies the blood, imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving that tone and energy so indispensable for the restoration of health. To be able to state confidently that Consumption is curable by inhalation, is to me a source of unalloyed pleasure. It is as much under the control of medical treatment as any other formidable disease; ninety out of every hundred cases can be cured in the first stages, and fifty per cent. in the second; but in the third stage it is impossible to save more than five per cent., for the Lungs are so cut up by the disease as to bid defiance to medical skill. Even, however, in the last stages, Inhalation affords extraordinary relief to the suffering attending this fearful scourge, which annually destroys ninety-five thousand persons in the United State alone: and a correct calculation shows that of the present population of the earth, eighty millions are destined to fill the Consumptive's grave.

Truly the quiver of death has no arrow so fatal as Consumption. In all ages it has been the great enemy of life, for it spares neither age nor sex, but sweeps off alike the brave, the beautiful, the graceful and the gifted. By the help of that Supreme Being from whom cometh every good and perfect gift, I am enabled to offer to the afflicted a permanent and speedy cure in Consumption. The first cause of tubercles is from impure blood, and the immediate effect produced by their deposition in the lungs is to prevent the free admission of air into the air cells, which causes a weakened vitality through the entire system. Then surely it is more rational to expect greater good from medicines entering the cavities of the lungs than from those administered through the stomach; the patient will always find the lungs free and the breathing easy, after Inhaling remedies. Thus, Inhalation is a local remedy, nevertheless it acts constitutionally, and with more power and certainty than remedies administered by the stomach. To prove the powerful and direct influence of this mode of administration, chloroform inhaled will entirely destroy sensibility in a few minutes, paralyzing the entire nervous system, so that a limb may be amputated without the slightest pain; inhaling the ordinary burning gass will destroy life in a few hours.

The inhalation of ammonia will rouse the system when fainting or apparently dead. The odor of many of the medicines is perceptible in the skin a few minutes after being inhaled, and may be immediately detected in the blood. A convincing proof of the constitutional effects of inhalation, is the effect that sickness is always produced by breathing foul air—is not this positive evidence that proper remedies, carefully prepared and judiciously administered through the lungs should produce the happiest results? During eighteen years' practice, many thousands suffering from diseases of the lungs and throat, have been under my care, and I have effected many remarkable cures, even after the sufferers had been pronounced in the last stages, which fully satisfies me that consumption is no longer a fatal disease. My treatment of consumption is original, and founded on long experience and a thorough investigation. My perfect acquaintance with the nature of tubercles, &c., enables me to distinguish, readily, the various forms of disease that simulate consumption, and apply the proper remedies, rarely being mistaken even in a single case. This familiarity, in connection with certain pathological and microscopic discoveries, enables me to relieve the lungs from the effects of contracted chests, to enlarge the chest, purify the blood, impart to it renewed vitality, giving energy and tone to the entire system.

Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the United States and Canadas by patients communicating their symptoms by letter. But the cure would be more certain if the patient should pay me a visit, which would give me an opportunity to examine the lungs and enable me to prescribe with much greater certainty, and then the cure could be effected without my seeing the patient again.

DU VALL'S GALVANIC OIL.

—This valuable preparation can be had at the store of Henry Lehr, in Andrew Green's old stand, North Ward. The attention of the public is invited to the following HOME TESTIMONY!

From the Lewisburg Chronicle.

DUVALL'S GALVANIC OIL.—The above medicine has been distributed through our county for the first time within the last month. In regard to its powerful preparation we can say, it is recommended by the press in stronger terms than any other preparation ever brought before the public. Many instances of almost miraculous cures have been recorded by the use of the above preparation. It is said to act by imparting to the nervous system a current of electricity.—And it is applicable to the cure of all sore and painful diseases

From the Lewistown Aurora.

I have been afflicted for ten years with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have received more benefit from Duvall's Galvanic Oil than any other medicine I ever used.

ALEX. McKEE.

Oliver township, Mifflin county.

This is to certify that I have used Duvall's Galvanic Oil in my family in some of the diseases for which it is recommended, and found it to act almost spontaneously. I recommend it to all who suffer from pain.

PORTABLE FLOUR MILLS.

The subscriber is manufacturing Portable Flour Mills, of a quality superior for simplicity and durability to any other now in use. They can be driven by steam, water, or horse power, and will prove a valuable acquisition to iron masters, stock feeders, and lumber men.—There are hundreds of persons throughout the country, who have surplus water or steam power, or whose power is only employed a portion of the time on other business, who, by introducing one or more of these mills into their establishments may greatly benefit themselves, and at the same time accommodate the public.

One of these mills (20 inches in diameter,) grinding over 12 bushels feed per hour, can be seen daily in operation at the Oil and Feed Mill of Messrs. Suydam & Co., on Rebecca street, Allegheny. Steam Engines, Boilers and Mill Furnishing on hand and made to order. Orders and inquiries attended to with dispatch. W. W. WALLACE.
